PHIL SCHEMBRA'S INVENTORY UPDATE

PALMETTO DUNES | SHELTER COVE | LEAMINGTON January 1 - May 31, 2024

Great Opportunities Abound!

Hilton Head Island has the unique distinction of being ranked #1 Island in the Continental U.S. by Travel + Leisure for six years and Condé Nast Traveler for seven consecutive years. This recognition underscores our appeal and desirability as a premier travel and oceanfront residential resort community.

The Land Management Ordinance (LMO) on Hilton Head Island dictates that new owners must purchase from existing owners, creating a supply and demand dynamic that consistently benefits sellers while ensuring the community primarily operates as a resale market. This ordinance, which also restricts density on the Island, is vital to keeping our market competitive and our property values increasing.

Hilton Head Island is an oceanfront residential resort community that attracts a diverse range of owners. This includes permanent residents and second-home owners, some who own income-producing properties to help reduce costs. The varied ownership base contributes to market stability and resilience.

Nationally, there has been an increasing demand for resort properties. Resort real estate, once underrepresented, has surged in popularity because people are looking for the ultimate quality of life. The post-pandemic era saw this shift accelerate, with buyers prioritizing location, amenities, indoor and outdoor space. This has led to a migration from major metropolitan areas and cities to resort communities, including Hilton Head Island. Our state was among the top three states for inbound migration last year, including Florida and Idaho.

Hilton Head Island has unlimited potential for increased property values. Comparatively, many coastal communities have much higher property prices and offer fewer amenities. Hilton Head Island, with its reputation and ongoing awards, offers an opportunity and potential for significant increases in property values.
